The Nature of The Prophetic

Beginning March 21, UC Davis Health Information Technology in partnership with the Compliance Office, replaced the current report-based surveillance EMR monitoring system with a web-based privacy, surveillance, and analytical software solution called Protenus.

The Crush

There is an apothecary's shop belonging to the hospital, where the most necessary remedies are prepared, but no expensive drug is to be found in it, and the method of administering to all the patients indiscriminately out of two or three huge bottles, full of different preparations, suffice to convince us, that the fresh air of the land, and fresh provisions here, contribute much more to the recovery of the sick, than the skill of their physicians.
